This Foolishness Called April

We had another eclectic and diverse group for our April meeting. A warm welcome to Scott Gondzar (pic left), new to Cheyenne and the guitar. It's hard to play for strangers under any circumstances, but he did a fine job. Nancy McKenzie broke out her mandolin this week for the first time, letting us join in on some old bluegrass standards. She even led us on an impromptu group song, "You are My Sunshine". Thanks, Nancy!

Welcome to our newest member, Loni Cox, "Long time watcher, first time caller" as they say on the home shopping shows. Her good buddy Bill

Bailey (pictured to the right) had a go at playing along with a backing track, doing some surfing tunes on his Fender Strat Fat Cat. Avery Janack did most of the heavy lifting when it came to 'eclectic' selections, with tunes ranging from Woodstock to heavy metal to Napolean Dynamite's outro song.

Be on the lookout for a special (and free!) event at the library this month. On April 17th at 6:30 pm, Mark Kroos will be playing his double neck guitar. I understand they are not just for show, he plays them both. At the same time. With his shoes on.
